

The Truthful Prayers – by His Holiness the Dalai Lama

- Humble sentient beings, tormented
By sufferings without cease,
Completely suppressed by seemingly endless
And terribly intense, negative deeds,
May all their fears from unbearable war, famine, and disease be pacified.
- To freely breathe an ocean of joy and happiness,
And particularly the pious people
Of the land snows who, through various means,
On the side of darkness,
Kindly let the power of your compassion arise,
To quickly stem the flow of blood and fears.
- Those unrelentingly cruel ones, objects of love and compassion,
Maddened by delusion's evils,
Wantonly destroy themselves and others;
May they achieve the eye of wisdom,
Knowing what must be done and undone
And abide in the glory of friendship and love.
- May this heartfelt wish of total freedom for all Tibet,
Which has been awaited for a long time,
Be spontaneously fulfilled;
Please grant soon the good fortune to enjoy
The happy celebration of spiritual with temporal rule.

By the profound interdependence of emptiness and relative forms,
Together with the force of great compassion of enlightenment beings
And through the power of the infallible law of actions and their natural results,
May these truthful prayers be unhindered and quickly fulfilled.
